G. Reading Comprehension (10x10 points)

Read the text and answer the questions that follow.

Artificial Intelligence*

(1) Artificial intelligence (AI) is quickly becoming a very important part of our lives, offering both exciting options and serious challenges. AI refers to machines or computer systems that can do tasks which usually need human intelligence. These tasks include learning, reasoning, problem-solving, and understanding language. While AI can make our lives easier, it also presents some challenges that we need to carefully consider. Some of the main advantages and challenges are discussed below.

(2) One important advantage of AI is its ability to process large amounts of data quickly and accurately (correctly). This ability is especially useful in fields like healthcare, where AI can help doctors diagnose (find) diseases faster and more accurately than before. For example, AI can analyze medical images, such as X-rays or MRIs, and find problems that a human doctor might not see. This can lead to earlier treatment and better outcomes for patients.

(3) In addition to healthcare, AI is changing other fields like transportation and education. Self-driving cars, run by AI, are being developed to make travel safer and more comfortable. In education, AI can offer learning experiences that suit each student's special needs, helping them learn at their own pace and according to their own interests. AI can also help teachers to manage their classes more effectively and plan better lessons.

(4) However, the rise of AI also brings its own set of challenges. One major concern is how this new technology might affect jobs. As AI systems become more developed, they can perform tasks that were previously done only by humans. This could cause job losses in certain industries, especially in roles where employees do repetitive tasks. Workers may need to learn new skills or change to different types of jobs if they want to stay employed.

(5) Another challenge is making sure AI is used in the right way. AI systems can make decisions that affect people's lives, like who gets a job or a loan. It's important to make sure these decisions are good and don't treat certain groups of people unfairly. To do this, we need to carefully check how AI systems make these choices and ensure they are not biased. This will help build trust in AI and make sure it helps everyone.
